Dear Ms. Salas:

Pursuant to the Wireless Telecommunications Bureau's request for additional information regarding Sprint PCS' Phase I implementation effort, attached please find two spreadsheets which contain information, current as of September 2001. The first attachment outlines those PSAPs that have been successfully deployed. The second attachment identifies those that are still in the implementation process and provides a brief description of their status. We note that these spreadsheets are provided for informational purposes only and are not intended to provide a complete description of the circumstances surrounding each request. In this regard, Sprint PCS has made no attempt to separate those requests that meet the prerequisites contained in 47 C.F.R. §20.18 from those that do not.

SPCS has worked diligently and cooperatively with PSAPs across the country to deploy Phase I Wireless Enhanced 9-1-1 services. Sprint PCS has accommodated PSAP requests for implementation, regardless of technology choice and has utilized CAS, NCAS and Hybrid CAS/NCAS (LEC) solutions. Sprint PCS does not maintain consolidated records that reflect the specific solution used in each market. If the Commission requires a more detailed, PSAP by PSAP listing of such information, Sprint PCS will require additional time to review the approximately 2,200 files involved and compile this information.

As of September 1, 2001, Sprint PCS had completed deployment in 648 PSAP jurisdictions. Another 1624 PSAPs have requested service and are in the implementation process. Of the 1624 PSAPs being implemented, 722 have been in the implementation process for more than 6 months. The reasons for delay vary but the parties involved are generally working cooperatively to resolve them. 902 have been in the implementation process for less than 6 months.

In tracking the deployment of Phase I services, Sprint PCS has not attempted to specifically categorize the reasons specific requests are not yet implemented. The status column of the spreadsheet attempts to identify the current state of deployment and potential problems or delays. We note that it is anticipated that the majority of all requests identified on the attached spreadsheet will be deployed within the next 90 to 120 days. Indeed, several PSAPs listed as still in the deployment process as of September 1, 2001, have now been deployed.

To provide a context for this information, some of the hurdles that have to be overcome and that have caused delays for Sprint PCS are as follows:
- PSAP contract requirements. Since the FCC removed the cost recovery requirements contained in the original E911 rule, Sprint PCS has implemented Phase I requests without requiring any contractual agreement. Some PSAPs, however, have insisted that contracts are necessary before implementation can begin;

- Specific cell/sector call routing decisions by the PSAP. Sprint PCS provides each PSAP with a coverage map, including cell and sector information. Before service can be implemented, PSAPs must verify which sectors they will serve. The time within which these routing decisions are made is beyond Sprint PCS' control;

- Cell site coverage and jurisdiction boundary issues and clarifications. All PSAPs in a given geographic area must agree on the appropriate cell and sector routing described above. Coordinating these decisions can be time-consuming;

- LEC support of the trunking and databasing requirements. Trunk installation times are controlled by LEC service providers and are frequently delayed. In addition, LECs can delay deployment by mandating non-standard configurations or changing processes during implementation;

- ALI connectivity for NCAS solutions. NCAS solutions require the ALI serving the requesting PSAP to have the capability for dynamic updating which requires connectivity to a national wireless ALI network infrastructure. A number of PSAPs have what are termed stand alone ALI (SALI) which do not have the required connectivity. The SALI situation creates additional coordination, planning, provisioning, cost identification and cost recovery activities that generally do not fit within a definable timeline;

- Available human resources from the PSAP to support the significant amount of work that must be done to successfully implement Phase I Wireless E9-1-1;

- Sprint PCS vendor software availability to support the variety of solutions being provided to the PSAPs. The primary issue is associated with supporting NCAS solutions on the existing Lucent ECP 16 software loads. The current software easily supports the CAS and Hybrid CAS/NCAS (LEC) solutions. However, many PSAPs cannot support these solutions due to constraints in their 911 networks. The NCAS environment requires cell site level translations control of SS7 signaling for 9-1-1 routing and current ECP 16 software only support switch level translations control. Cell site level control is required since all PSAPs served by a single switch may not have or want Phase I or may want Phase I provided by a solution other than NCAS. This is scheduled to be resolved with the release of Lucent's software (ECP 17-SU4) which is anticipated in the mid-November 2001, time frame.

Sprint PCS and its vendor Intrado have sought to move the Phase I implementation process forward. Working jointly with PSAPs, we believe we have identified and addressed issues in a manner that exemplifies the good faith efforts needed by all involved parties to successfully deploy Phase I Wireless Enhanced 9-1-1 services.

Please contact us if you need additional information regarding Sprint PCS' Phase I activities.

Sincerely,

Luisa L. Lancetti
